In the Eastern Gazette, published at Dexter, Me., an account of the 100th anniversary celebration of the town of Dexter is given. Included in the account is an address by Hon. Stanley Plummer relating to the history of the town, in which two former Andover men are prominently mentioned. They are Jeremiah and Amos Abbott, sons of Nathan Abbott, who was descended in the fifth generation from George Abbott, a pioneer settler of Andover in 1643. Jeremiah was born Aug. 15, 1790, and died June 21, 1889, in Dexter; Amos was born Nov. 13, 1795, and died Dec. 24, 1865. They went down East when young men and settled, after some prospecting, in Dexter, where they purchased mill privileges and embarked in business. Descendants of theirs are among the present citizens of this town.

The tracks of the Boston & Northern street railway company have now been laid beyond the Lawrence line on North Main street. While the track is being relaid it has been impossible for the cars to be run on schedule time, especially in the morning and now the plan of adopting a fifteen minute schedule both morning and afternoon is being tried. The result seems to be that while there can be little regularity about the running time, the service is improved because the cars are run oftener.

Collect the Debt.

When suffering from rheumatism sharp pains dart through your joints, and there is pain, tenderness and inflammation of the joints and muscles. Life seems hardly worth living. If the world owes you a living, it owes you a happy one. Collect the debt; health is essential to happiness. TARTARLITHINE has given health to many who have suffered for years with rheumatism. Tartarlithine cannot cure all diseases; but it is the one perfect remedy for rheumatism. It is very pleasant to the taste, does not affect the heart or stomach, and has been taken by people with very delicate constitutions with perfect satisfaction. Send for free pamphlet.

In an article contributed to the London "Lancet," a physician of Philadelphia says: "Tartarlithine has given me results beyond all comparison superior to any preparation which I have tried. The promptness of its action is in many cases astonishing, a subsidence of distressing symptoms quickly following its administration. The use of the preparation has sufficed in all cases so far treated, about twenty in number, to practically cure the disorder."

AS A WOMAN THINKS.

(From the Pittsburg Dispatch.)

A woman is for all men to admire, for the happiness of but one.

A man describes a woman by her face, a woman by her clothes.

Some of the longest periods of reflection to a woman are those she passes before her mirror.

The way a girl spells her name nowadays is not always the way it is set down in the family Bible.

The girl who is as attractive after we know her as she is when we are first introduced is rare.

The bitter moment comes in more than one woman's life when she presses her face against the glass and looks through into another woman's happiness, as children press their noses against the panes of the top shop window, knowing the displayed delights are never for them.

NOT NATURAL, BUT SMART

Black flowers will hold their own in the world of millinery, and very graceful effects are obtained with a wreath of black roses or poppies with golden centres on an all-white hat. A relief is given by the green foliage which goes with these flowers. On white ruffles, also, the single black rose is worn, and here it is of gigantic proportions compared to a natural rose

JUMPING TO A CONCLUSION.

Edith—I'm going to have a big doll for a Christmas present.

Ethel—How do you know? Did your mamma tell you?

Edith—No, but I saw her making a whole lot of clothes and they are too little for me.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years it was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address

First Typewriter Girl.

Thomas G. Shearman, the New York lawyer and pillar in Plymouth church under Henry Ward Beecher, Lyman Abbott and Newell Dwight Hillis, is the reputed father of the typewriter girl. And he doesn't deny it.

"Yes, I am the father of the feminine typewriter," says Mr. Shearman, "and I am mighty proud of the distinction, as I am likewise proud of my big family of girls. Haven't the least idea how many there are of them now, but they number tens and tens of thousands, I know, and they are scattered all over the globe, from New York to Manila and from Cape Nome to South Africa. Twenty-five years ago there were none anywhere in the world.

"In 1876 the 'typewriter woman' was born. In that year a young woman, the daughter of a dear friend of mine who had died but a short time before, came to me with the information that she was going to go out into the world and earn her own living. She asked my advice and I told her to study shorthand. This she did immediately, and while doing so I instructed her in the use of the typewriting machine at my own home.

"When she had completed her course at a business college she announced her intention of trying to get employment in a lawyer's office. Thinking it would be better to begin a business life with strangers, I applied to several of my friends here in Wall street, including some of the best known lawyers in the city, but without exception they positively refused to entertain the idea. In fact, they were horror stricken at the very suggestion of such a thing.

"Then, as I had been the one to advise the young woman to take the step that she had, there was nothing left for me to do but to make a place for her in my own office, advising her to obtain another position as soon as she could. At that time no woman was employed in any law office but after one example had been set it was followed within two years by a few other lawyers, and one of the very law firms that had originally refused with positive terror to employ the young woman now sent for her and gave her a very liberal salary for those times. She became private secretary of the head of the firm, and was employed in such confidential and important work.

"When the lawyer with whom this young woman worked for many years retired from practice, she removed to Chicago, where she speedily obtained employment, earning $20 a week for the first year, and afterward by working in two places, one in the day and the other in the evening, $40 a week. But in the second year she married one of her employers and thus established the triple record—of being the first woman typewriter, the first female clerk in a New York law office and the first of a long line of typewriters who subsequently married their employers. When I last saw the mother of the typewriter girl, she was in Paris, prosperous and happy."

It was a New Yorker, too, who introduced girls into the employment of the departments at Washington as clerks. This was Francis Elias Spinner, treasurer of the United States for many years, and whose curious autograph on the greenbacks became more familiar than the signature of any living man.

PINEAPPLE DECORATIONS.

A fad has developed a new industry in St. Louis. Fashionable women have created a demand for a product that heretofore has attracted a little attention in the local market. A bright society leader discovered that pineapples would make a beautiful and appropriate decoration for the dinner table.

She was brave enough to put her conviction into practice, and it made an instantaneous hit. Now landaus and victorias thread their way through the maze of huckster wagons and richly gowned women clamor for pineapples. Shipments are ordered with a view to this demand.

The fruit is judged not only by its food quality, but by its artistic beauty. Your decorative pineapple must be untrimmed. This means that it must wear its eye-delighting crown of green palm-like leaves.

Of Interest to Women.

If she is a very exclusive young woman she wears a Panama hat when she plays golf. The newest Panama for the links has a bell crown, dented, and a brim which is broad and rolls at the edges. And it is prettily draped with a silk gold scarf. These scarfs come in white and green and white and red.

Another Panama suitable for golf, and also correct style for general every-day wear, is much the same shape as the hat with the golf scarf, only the brim is broader. It is chic and smart and altogether most desirable if trimmed merely with a black velvet band and low bow.

The Panama Alpine is also much worn by the summer girl this year. Sometimes it is just a counterpart of the summer man's untrimmed save a narrow band about the crown, and then again it is draped with a gray silk scarf or trimmed with a dashing velvet bow, but in any case it must be a genuine Panama, cool, comfortable and high-priced.

The wife of the present president of France is rather more ornamental in her position as mistress of the Elysee palace than either of her last two predecessors. Mme. Carnot was distinguished and aristocratic, but she was not fond of society, and she dressed like a Quakeress. Mme. Faure and her daughter tried their best to be decorative and fashionable, but only succeeded in looking fussy. Mme. Loubet has a refined taste, which is especially noticeable in her dress, though she does not affect the ultra-fashionable and gay style like many well-dressed women of her age. She wore recently a white satin foulard, with garlands of painted white nasturtiums. The skirt was flounced with plaited white mousseline over orange mousseline, and a deep lace collar partially covered a bodice of white and orange. A toque of nasturtiums, softened near the face by a white lace drapery, and a Pierrot boa of white tulle, knotted with black velvet, were details in the best of taste.

Numbers of women who are swift, handy and tasteful with their needles make their own dinner hats by buying white wire frames and utilizing on them the lace and jewel odd and ends from their boxes or drawers of hoarded treasures.

The hat must not be so large or heavy as to interfere with the display of a particularly nice or elaborate coiffure. We seem to have reached a new stage in ornaments for the back hair.

The pins we so long have used are disappearing, and in their places we have a long comb of shell supplied with very short, widely set teeth.

This comb is so long that it almost clasps the rear of the head from ear to ear, its top is studded solidly with fresh water pearls or turquoise, and when set in place the teeth sink quite out of sight, the wild hairs that will strap out at the back of the head are held neatly in place and the head appears to be clasped by a curved band of solid jewels

Black and white is the favorite combination when the departure is made from the one color gown. Narrow scarlet velvet ribbon has been extensively used run through beading. This, by the way, is one of the Frenchy touches brought over by one of our leading dressmakers. She it was whose clever ideas were worked into a chic little white muslin gown dotted with black polka dots worn by a belle whose wedding will be one of the October events.

A little dinner was given one evening last week by the sister of her fiance and the engaged girl donned her prettiest gown in honor of this important occasion. It was trimmed with cherry colored velvet ribbon run through yards and yards of beading and knots of the velvet were used on the elbow sleevs, bodice and skirt. The neck had quite the newest touch to it, and that it was the exact reproduction of the St. Cecilia neck whose picture we are all familiar with.

It was the gayest little dinner imaginable. The table, with its snowy linen shining silver and cut glass, was a very pretty sight. In the centre lay a heart shaped mound of flaming scarlet geraniums outlined by a border of rose geranium leaves. The young hostess, who is noted for being quite a famous housekeeper for so young a girl, sprung some little surprises on her guests.

The salad course consisted of cucumber jelly cut in dice and served in baskets made of large round tomatoes resting on a bed of lettuce, a spoonful of mayonnoise on each. Mushrooms in rolls was another dainty. These consisted of stewed mushrooms in rolls which had had the tops taken off and the insides taken out. Then they were put in the oven and browned, filled with the mushrooms and the lid replaced. Our hostess greeted her guests in a buttercup gown.

It was a very attractive little affair of yellow organdie with touches of narrow lace. The waist had the form of a buttercup blossom with five round overlapping petals of the organdie trimmed with Valenciennes. The sash and stock were of yellow green taffeta. Just the color of buttercup greens.

"I have been given to understand," said the visitor from abroad, "that the present is an era of great prosperity."

"Yes."

"But there is an enormous crowd watching the movements of the police."

"I suppose so."

"And a constant procession passing the house where a mysterious crime was committed."

"Very likely."

"And hundreds trying to gain admittance to the coroner's inquest."

"I don't doubt it."

"It's a great mystery."

"My dear sir, I was not referring to the murder. I was referring to the fact that so many people haven't any regular work to do."

When the House of Commons votes it marches out into the lobbies, where the members are counted by the tellers. The average distance traversed by each member from his seat is 240 feet so that at one all night sitting recently on an important bill, when 33 divisions were made, each member tramped exactly a mile and a half, without counting unofficial excursions to the smoking and refreshment rooms. As a division usually takes 12 minutes, the house was six and one half hours on its feet that night.

BERTIE'S BADNESS.

The new minister called on Mrs. Jones the other day and found her youngest hopeful swinging on the front gate.

"What's your name, my little man?" asked the reverend gentleman, paternally.

"Bertie," was the laconic reply. Bertie had just received a well-merited chastisement and was not in the best of humors.

"And Bertie is a good boy, I hope?" went on the clergyman.

"No!" announced the young man, sternly. "I ain't a good boy! I'm a bad boy. I eats wo'ms. Yestiddy I ate tree—two woolly ones and a smoove one."—Syracuse Herald.

Sick Women

Mrs. Valentine Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cured Her.

Happiness will go out of your life forever, my sister, if you have any of the symptoms mentioned in Mrs. Valentine's letter, unless you act promptly. Procure Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once. It is absolutely sure to help you. Then write for advice if there is anything about your case you do not understand.

You need not be afraid to tell the things you could not explain to the doctor—your letter will be seen only by women. All the persons who see private letters at Mrs. Pinkham's Laboratory, at Lynn, Mass., are women. All letters are confidential and advice absolutely free.

Here is the letter:—"It is with pleasure that I add my testimony to your list, hoping it may induce others to avail themselves of the benefit of your valuable remedy. Before taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I felt very badly, was terribly nervous, and tired, had sick headaches, no appetite gnawing pain in stomach, pain in my back and right side, and so weak I could scarcely stand. I was not able to do anything. Had sharp pains all through my body. Before I had taken half a bottle of your medicine, I found myself improving. I continued its use until I had taken four bottles, and felt so well that I did not need to take any more. I am like a new person, and your medicine shall always have my praise."—Mrs. W. P. Cleaning Straw Hats.

"Americans can learn a few things away from home," said an official who arrived recently from Honolulu, "and sometimes the knowledge is of considerable importance when it comes to the details of life. I have been living in Honolulu for some time now, and recall one thing at this time that may be of concern to the people of this section on account of a prevailing fashion in hats. I observe that the palmetto hat is the proper thing now in headgear, and I have learned a very simple and very harmless way of cleaning them in Honolulu.

"These hats, which come to us from British Honduras, are very expensive, and they are easily ruined when some of the usual acids used in cleaning hats are applied to them. They are of a very fine texture, and cannot stand the rough treatment given to ordinary straw in the cleaning process.

"The method adopted in Honolulu is simple and inexpensive, and preserves the natural color of the hat. There is no chance for discoloration, and when the work is finished the hat looks as it did when it came out of the bandbox.

"The plan is the essence of simplicity. Plain, dry cornmeal, applied with a perfectly dry brush, and it is wonderful how quickly the work may be accomplished and how clean the hat is when one is through with it. One may use an old castoff toothbrush for the purpose. But really any kind of a brush will do, just so the bristles are not stiff enough to injure the hat."

IN RESPONSE TO CALL.

Rev. A. H. Amory, rector of Grace church, who returned to Lawrence Monday after an extended absence, was interviewed regarding the call which was extended to him the first of the month by St. Stephen's church of Lynn. Rev. Mr. Amory said he could not yet make a definite statement regarding the matter as he had not decided whether or not to accept the call. He said he had not notified the vestry of either the local or the Lynn church as to his plans, hence even if his mind were made up he could not make a statement at this time. He stated that he would probably announce his decision very soon.

The service was private, only immediate relatives and a few intimate friends of the family attending. Rev. A. H. Amory paid a touching tribute to the worth of the deceased. The bearers were Henry Souther of Hartford, Conn., Fred H. Eaton, William T. Kimball, Leonard Sherman, H. L. Sherman and Roland H. Sherman, all of this city. Burial took place in the family lot in Bellevue cemetery.

ROB POSTOFFICE.

The Ward Hill postoffice at Haverhill was burgiarized Wednesday night and a quantity of money and papers stolen. The burglars at the time of writing, are still at large, but a sharp lookout is being kept for them in this city and neighboring towns. No damage to the office or safe is reported and nothing is said of anything being taken from the building except what was stolen from the safe. The authorities have no clue to the whereabouts of the burglars except that they must have gone over the road in the direction of North Andover, as a box taken from the safe was found there.

The telephone message says: "The postoffice at Ward Hill was broken into last night and the following property stolen from the safe which was opened with a key: About $30, mostly in silver doars and change; about $7 in bills; also a tin box containing a lot of private papers and old coin.

"The tin box was found on the road between Ward Hill and North Andover this morning where it had been throwk away by the thief."

OWED THE CITY.

HAVERHILL, Aug. 27—The police are searching for Malcom H. T. Gall, a prominent lawyer of this city, who is wanted on the charge of larceny of $1000 from Horace J. Elliott of Newburyport. It is claimed that Mr. Gall has been missing from this city since last Wednesday.

The police say that several other complaints have been made to them, including the claim that Gall's office furniture had been mortgaged to three different persons during this month.

Mr. Gall is about 28 years of age, and has always had a good reputation among the members of the bar.

It is supposed that he is in Canada, and Officer Shannon has left this city in search of him. It is thought that his alleged financial troubles extend over a period of several months.

Lawrence is much interested in the disappearance of Lawyer Gall of Haverhill, as he is considered indebted to the overseers of the poor department to the extent of about $300. Efforts to collect the bill having failed suit had been brought by City Solicitor Kane at the direction of the poor department officials. The money is due for the board and care of a young Haverhill woman who was treated at the cottage hospital in this city. Arrangements to have the girl taken into the institution were made by Mr. Gall, who is said by Supt. Stanley of the almshouse to have promised to pay all bills contracted in behalf of the patient.

Mr. Gall is pretty well known in this city and Methuen, where he once resided.

IDENTIFIED SUICIDE.

LOWELL, Aug. 26. — The real story of Mary King, alias Katie Connors, who hung herself in a cell at the police station after receiving a sentence to jail for drunkenness, earlier in the month, was known at police headquarters for the first time late yesterday afternoon.

Thomas Ross of Lawrence a well dressed and well appearing man of 35 years, called and identified the woman as his wife from articles not buried with the body.

It is proposed in Lynn to close the shoe factories Saturday afternoons the year round.

C. D. Woodbury and George Young two Riverside, Haverhill, young men, have been missing from their homes since a week ago. The case is in the hands of the police.

After six months of persistent effort, Postmaster Sanderson of Lynn has secured from the department at Washington, the allowance of a new letter carrier, to date from the first day of October.

Frank Smith of Lynn, aged about 48, was run over by one of the trolley cars which are used at the General Elestric works to move material yesterday and died a few hours later at the hospital.

Capt. Soloman Jacobs of Gloucester will dress his schooner, the Helen Miller Gould, on Sunday, with the handsome set of colors presented him by Miss Helen Gould for whom the craft is named.

The shipment of shoes from Haverhill for the six days ending Aug. 22 were 6747 cases. This record has been equalled only once in the past 10 years, in 1899, when the total was 8027. It is a big increase over last year.

John G. Adams and Allan Keating, two Lynn 15-year-olds, were caught in the act of robbing a store in that city Thursday night. It is thought that these little chaps may be responsible for several other breaks within a short time.

It is said that there are less than 4000 barrels of mackerel in the Gloucester market, or less than a quarter of the usual quantity at this time of year. Sol. Jacobs came in with no fish, and when Sol gets blanked it means that macekerel are scarce.

Newburyporters had a great time at the beach Thursday, it being estimated that over 15,000 attended. When the balloon was ready to go up it caught fire and the aeronaut stayed on the ground. Had he gone up with the mal chine he would have pretty likely beeu killed.

John Carr and William Lundgren of Salem were seriously injured in a bicycle accident Sunday evening. They struck head on in a collision. Both were taken to the Salem hospital. Carr's condition is the more critical. The accident occurred on Forest River hill.

The United States government is preparing to erect a series of modern fortifications on Bass Point and other portions of Nahant. Some 75 cottages will be torn down, as well as some hotels and restaurants. The government has already spent $250,000 in acquiring land.

Cornelius Buckley, a well known grocer of Newburyport, died suddenly of apoplexy, Monday. He was born in Cork, Ire., in 1845, and came to America when a lad of 17. For 17 years he had conducted a store at 137 Merrimac street. He was one of the charter members of Phil Sheridan court, M. C. O. F. He leaves a wife, one son, Michael, and three daughters, Anna, Katie and Mary Buckley.

Mrs. Sallie Gowdy of Lynn, widow of Thomas Gowdy quietly celebrated her 96th birthday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. S. E. Barstow, Saturday. Though long past the allotted span of three score and ten, she still retains her faculties to a wonderful degree and her health is so good that she is able to assist her daughter in doing the work of the house, and can wash dishes with as little difficulty as when she was a score of years younger.

D. Gage Hunt, for 17 years secretary of the Lynn school board, resigned at the meeting of the committee Monday night and the resignation was accepted. He will engage in business. After 13 ballots the the question of selecting a military instructor for the Lyn high school battalions was referred to the high school committee. Captains Frank Packard and H. B. Goodridge were the contestants, with eight votes necessary for a choice. Both men at times had six, on two of the ballots Packard had seven, and on each ballot there were several blanks cast. The proposition to have a physical instructor for the girls at the high schools was defeated.

A telegram was received in Marblehead Saturday announcing the death of Gen. Philip T. Woodfin, governor of the Soldiers' Home at Hampton, Va., at 4.15 Friday afternoon, of a complication of diseases, aged 64 years. Gov. Woodfin was born in Marblehead, April 26, 1840, and in his early life was engaged with his father in the express business. At the outbreak of the civil war he was a sergeant in company C, 8th regiment, and had the distinction of being the first man to enter Faneuil Hall in 1861 at the call for troops by President Lincoln. An affidavit can be produced to that effect signed by Surg. Gen. Blood. Gov. Woodfin served in the war with honor, and in 1869 he was appointed secretary of the Soldiers' Home at Togus, Me., where he served till his promotion in 1873 to the governorship of the Hampton institution. For the last 27 years he had been connected with the Soldiers' Home at Hampton, Va., where he is well known and highly respected. His remains will probably be buried at Arlington, according to his desire. He leaves a widow, a son and a daughter, and has several brothers and a sister at Marblehead.

About three weeks ago Valentine G. Colby, a carpenter, residing at 31 Summer street, Lynn, decided that there was a better chance for employment in the West than hereabouts and left for new fields. Since that time he has written several times and last month expressed his intention of returning home. Later, on August 14, a letter was received from Galveston, Texas, stating that he was on his way home and would sail for New York the next day. He again wrote when he arrived in New York, and since that time his wife and family have heard nothing from him. The New York police were notified of his absence and after an investigation reported that nothing could be found in regard to him. On Saturday, while a party were yatching off South Norwalk, Conn., a body was found floating in the water and taken ashore. In one of the pockets was found a ticket on the Joy line, bearing the name of V. G. Colby, Dallas, Texas. The general description of the body answers that of Mr. Colby, and it is thought that he must have fallen overboard from the steamer on his way from New York to Boston. He was a man about 51 years old

NOTES.

One club in Lawrence is all there should be next season. If this can be accomplished Lawrence could have a team to hold its own with any in the state. Methuen too will be helped thereby as would also Andover.

A game of great interest will be played at Lowell Saturday, between the Mohairs and Lawrences. Should the Mohairs win they will still have the Methuens to beat in order to tie Bunting for the championship.

The attempt of the Buntings to "ring in" Thorp and Hindle at this stage of the game will hardly be countenanced by the league. The Buntings have beaten Mohair with its present team and in case of a tie in the league it looks as though the Buntings will be obliged to use the players only who have played in the ten championship games.

The Lawrence cricket team will meet the Mohair Plush of Lowell at Lowell Saturday next at 2.30 p. m. in a league game. The players from this city will take the 1 o'clock electric from the transfer station. The Lawrence team is Pearson, capt.; Walker, Wainwright, T Hodgson, G. Hodgson, O'Brien, Hill, Shaw, Reddehough, Furneaux, J. Pye.

A CURE FOR CHOLERA INFANTUM.

"Last May," says Mrs. Curtis Baker of Brookwalter, Ohio, "an infant child of our neighbor's was suffering with cholera infantum. The doctor had given up all hopes of recovery. I took a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy to the house, telling them I felt sure it would do good if used according to directions. In two days' time the child had fully recovered and is now (nearly a year since) a vigorous, healthy girl. I have recommended this Remedy frequently and have never known it to fail in any single instance." For sale by all druggists.

Pat—Begorra, but ain't thim two min thin?

Mike—Yes, but I seen a thinner wan th' other day.

Pat—How thin was he?

Mike—Shure, he was as thin as thim two put together.

REALISTIC.

"That canvas of mine that I call 'Sunset on the Jersey Meadows' is the most realistic thing I ever did."

"Is it?"

"Yes. You see that stagnant pool in the foreground? Well, sir, I had to sprinkle crude petroleum over it to keep the mosquitoes off."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

DISGUISED.

Manager—What's this item in your expense account for "hardware, $50"?

Salesman—Hardware? Oh, yes; that's for poker. I thought it would look better put in that way.

PROMISING OPENING.

It was once told that a man up in Otis undertook to dry some snow and sell it for salt. He said he failed because the product was not salt enough. But there is a chance for somebody to evaporate Ludlow water and sell the product for fertilizing purposes with reasonable prospect of success.—Springfield Union.

What are Humors?

They are vitiated or morbid fluids coursing the veins and affecting the tissues. They are commonly due to defective digestion but are sometimes inherited.

How do they manifest themselves?

In many forms of cutaneous eruption, salt rheum or eczema, pimples and boils, and in weakness, languor, general debility.

How are they expelled? By

which also builds up the system that has suffered from them.

It is the best medicine for all humors.

AGRICULTURAL FAIRS.

A comemndation of the management of the Essex Agricultural society, which has adhered to the policy of patting the agricultural interest to the fore rather than the cheap amusement features, comes in a recently published report issued by a Boston organization that is doing good work along several lines.

The civis committee of Boston has sent a series of questions to the secretaries of al the state boards of agriculture, asking whether, in their opinion, the purely legitimate agricultural fair or the "wide open" fair pay better in the long run financially, and educationally. Opinions in reply have been received from 23 states, including two provinces of Canada.

Without exception these officials say that the purely legitimate agricultural fair pays better financially in the long run; that the "wide open" fair is not a financial success, that it is offensive to the better class of people on whom the fair must rely for continued support, and is demoralizing to the surrounding community.

They are also unanimous for rigorously excluding at games of chance; for strictly prohibiting all alcoholic liquors, except California; and they severely condemn vulgar tent shows and suggestive demonstrations on the outside of tents.

As to whether "circus" features tend to absorb time, strength and interest of patrons to any disadvantage to the exhibition of farm, home, school and factory products, the majority believe that they do, and therefore should not be encouraged. One-half of the writers lean to the view that entertainments foreign to the real features of the fair should be done away with as fast as the people can be educated to appreciate the fair for its own sake.

"The Doomed Trees."

The communications in another column regarding the trees on Main street are welcome additions to the discussion of this very important subject. The authors are among the most ardent nature lovers in the town, and people of superior intelligence and knowledge,

What they say always carries weight and always merits most careful consideration.

It is to be sincerely regretted however, if in the discussion of this important question anything is to be allowed to enter that savors of the bitter or that tends to charge bad faith on the part of any person interested. We must not for a moment lose sight of the fact that there can not possibly be "any axes to grind" in the suggestion to take out the trees in question. Certainly the street railway does not desire to take on the expense which their removal entails. Certainly no public official looks with aught else but regret upon the proposition.

Why then their removal? Solely in the interest of public safety, and because by their removal it is believed that Main street can be properly graded, the entrances to houses on the east side can be properly built, and in the judgment of many the street greatly improved.

This is the contention of those who advocate the removal of these trees. The advocates include some of the most level headed men in the community, as well as many of the most ardent lovers of nature. They do not decide in this way because they are wholly practical, nor because they are devoid of sentiment, but because the former has outweighed the latter. To call them enemies of the beautiful and men lacking in sentiment is neither fair nor justified.

That the public is divided upon the question is not to be wondered at. But the division should not produce bitterness that will lead the adherent of one side to abuse in any way the believer in the other side of the question. Possibly the man who says the trees should go and the sidewalk should be lowered, is mistaken, but isn't it also possible that the man who insists that such an act would ruin the street, is likewise mistaken?

Our correspondent who suggests a way out of the difficulty, does a public service, and each of his propositions should be most carefully considered. Certainly if there is any possible way to save the trees, and make the necessary changes at the same time, every citizen will throw up his hat in its support. If there is no way to do this, sad as it may be to say it, there seems to be little doubt but that the material side of the question will win.

Editorial Cinders.

The ridiculous phase of the tree difficulty is found in the impression which has been created in some unaccountable way that the street railway people are desirous of having the trees cut, and are making a fight for it through the same forces that were in favor of two tracks on the street. Inasmuch as the extra expense which the Street railway would be obliged to bear if the trees are removed would mount into the thousands of dollars, the absurdity of this belief is easily apparent. The old idea about the cry of "wolf" is still very apropos to many of the present-day doings.

The busiest place in Andover this summer is Andover hill. The face of the old and familiar spot is being changed so that it bids fair to be a new land to the returning pilgrim a few years hence. It may be heresy to call this movement such, but it certainly looks much like the ordinary mortal's conception of another "march of progress."

It is good fun to see boys have a good time. They ought to have their good times when they are boys. But when the boys' good time consists of creating a disturbance which interferes with the pleasure of many others, as did the yelling and singing of a crowd of boys at the Grange lawn party last Tuesday evening, it is time to call a halt in a very summary manner.

No improvement in Andover for a long time will provide comfort and convenience for so many, as will the new sanitaries at the Stowe school. The work is nearly completed, and the entire job is a very excellent one.

SUMMER SCHOOL CLOSED

Exercises Held Friday Afternoon at Stowe School Building.

It was with regret that the sixty boys who have made up the quota of vacation school scholars during the past six weeks, realized last Friday that closing time had come. Their play work had been so agreeable that it became positively distasteful for them to forego the pleasure of playing systematically, imbibing knowledge at the same time, while scarcely knowing that such was the case. Last year, girls were admitted to the delights of the summer school training but merely in an experimental sort of way as it was against the policy of the school as first started. By admitting girls, a corresponding number of boys were necessarily barred from attendance.

It was a goodly number of people who gathered on the Stowe school lawn and in the building Friday afternoon to participate either actively or passively in the closing exercises which were much the same as usual, and consisted of exhibitions of sloyd, construction and nature work, and games.

The games were held out of doors and consisted of various running matches, hoop races, potatoe races, and other amusements such as ring toss and bean bags. It did one good to watch the zest with which the boys entered every event, the skill they displayed and pleasure in coming out victorious.

But their interest was just as intense when they were busily engaged in their weaving of the many colored withes in beautiful baskets; or in the getting ready and putting together of some article of wood in their little carpenter shop; and in the explanation and investigation of their specimens, such as butterflies, cocoons, birds' nests, insects, fishes, etc., in their nature department.

This year in the class in swimming only three boys who did not know how to swim, did not learn. This feature was in charge of John Angus of this place, Princeton '04, who acted as principal this summer, Mr. Johnson having left Andover for other fields. Mr. Angus also had charge of the other out of door games and had an oversight over the printing department. The Summer School Record was issued by the scholars this year as usual. They furnished the reading matter besides assisting in setting type and printing on the hand presses.

Mr. Angus was assisted by a corps of teachers consisting of Leland Griggs of Dartmouth who taught the nature work, Edward Hall, Andover and Harvard, sloyd; Philip W. Foster, Andover and Phillips Academy, printing; Misses Everetta Packard of Chicago, Miss Battles and Miss Ethel Clark, Andover, in the primary department.

The school has proved just as successful this year as usual.

Band Concert.

The concert by the band last night was the most popular and most appreciated yet given in the series. The beautiful evening drew out a very large crowd which fully enjoyed the efforts of Bandmaster Bliss and his men to please. The latter also appreciated the generous applause of the crowd and responded to the encores called for. The two most popular pieces on the program were "Good morning Carry" and "Good-bye Dollie Gray" which were repeatedly encored. The bolero and polka "A votre Saute" by Charles H. Newton, whose compositions always are tuneful, contained many pretty passages and received a well deserved encore.

The band played three pieces published by the John Church Co., gavotte, "The Caress;" two step, "Ma Mobile Babe," and "The Buffalo March" by T. P. Brooks. All were well received especially the march which, although the last number on the program, was encored, and the band willingly played it again. These compositions were sent to Bandmaster Bliss by James R. Murray an old Andover boy who is associated with the John Church Co., in Cincinnati, but who still takes an interest in all things musical in Andover.

There will be one more concert the date of which will be announced next week.

The program last night was as follows:

MARCH	Good Morning Carrie
GAVOTTE—The Caress	Gayton Barrett
OVERTURE—Pastime	Laurendeau
TWO STEP (Ragtime)—Ma Mobile Babe,	J. W. Klohr
a Bolero } b Polka } —A Votre Sante	C. H. Newton
SONG	Goodbye Dollie Gray
WALTZES—Marina	Vandervill
FINALE—The Buffalo March	T. P. Brooks

Examination By Diver.

By order of the Board of Public Works Captain Olsen, a diver employed by George W. Townsend, Boston, came out to Andover yesterday, and both he and John E. Smith, engineer of the Board, made a thorough examination of the suction pipe, screening, and floor of the pond at the pumping station.

The suction pipe was examined by Captain Olsen its entire length from the shore, and he also investigated the bottom of the pond within a radius of 100 feet. The pipe was found to be in perfect condition and the bottom of the pond free from vegetable matter. The outside screenings of the crib were found to be intact, altho' loose in one or two portions, nothing to cause any trouble, however. No fish could possibly get in. The screenings were tightened by the diver. On the inside the screenings were found to have rusted out entirely, and will have to be replaced shortly.

No report has yet been received from the State board of health, but one is expected at any time.

The pond, at the place where the cribs are located is 20 feet deep, the mouth of the suction pipe being 17 feet below the surface.

Has Started Macadam.

Superintendent Lovejoy of the highway department, put a gang of men at work Tuesday, on macadamizing the west side of Main street, starting near the watering trough on the hill.

The work will be pushed along as rapidly as possible and Mr. Lovejoy says that he hopes to be able to finish the street in good shape as far as Morton street this fall. He has about $2000 to spend.

It seems unlikely that the state highway commissioners will do anything for Andover this year as their appropriation has been about expended, and in the apportionment Andover appears to have been left out.

The commissioners informed Supt. Lovejoy early in the season that they intended to extend the state road on South Main street, from the present point of completion, to about 35 feet beyond the terminus of the Lawrence & Reading road, provided the town would appropriate money and do its share toward the macadamizing of Main treet to unite the two sections of state road in town. When these stretches are finished there will be a fine highway from the Lawrence line, with scarcely a break, to Boston.

It is hoped and expected that the highway commissioners will do their part next year by fulfilling their agreement. Would that Lawrence authorities could be induced to put the road from the Andover line to Andover street in Lawrence in a condition not so dangerous to life and limb.

The new piece of macadam being put in by Superintendent Lovejoy on South Main street, will have a uniform width of 15 feet, 8 inches. At the upper portion very little of the surface had to be removed but a little farther down the hill ten inches of road bed will have to be taken out. Mr. Lovejoy is endeavoring to arrange with the state highway commissioners whereby this material may be used to fill up the hollow just over the brow of the hill toward Reading, saving thereby a considerable expense in the construction of state road extension it provided for next year.

Riding School Nearly Completed.

A big gang of men have made rapid headway in the erection of the new riding academy building on the Hussey field near the corner of North Main and South Union streets, Frye Village. The owner and projector of the scheme, Mr. Heroux of Lawrence, expects to have the building completed in a comparatively short time now.

It is his intention to make the building have somewhat the appearance of a club and with this view, the front is made in an ornamental design with towers on either corner and arched front. In the towers will be the dressing rooms for ladies and gentlemen.

The building is 140 feet long and 40 feet wide with the riding arena 95 x 40. The front of the academy is ten feet wider. In the front of the arena will be two balconies for spectators. Handsome driveways will lead up to the front with foot paths and bridle way. In a field east of the school will be the out door track with a course of about half a mile.

Back of and connected with the riding school is the stable of nine horses, each one a beauty. They are Kentucky high school saddle horses. By high school it is meant that they are thoroughly trained and can march, walk Spanish, and do other equally clever things. It is delightful to watch them as they exercise and see their almost human intelligence and pleasure in their work.

Instructions will be given by Mr. Heroux and other competent teachers, in riding, a course to consist of ten lessons. After a sufficient number of lessons have been given in the arena, the pupils will be taken upon the out door course. Horses will be available to the graduates of the academy for hire.

While there will be only nine horses to start with, more will be added if occasion requires. Those now on hand have a wide range in weight so that all the pupils may be suited.

It is expected that the academy will prove a great winter attraction in town and that many will avail themselves of the opportunity to enjoy horseback exercise. It is possible that music will be provided if the attendance warrants.

Tree Hearing.

The hearing on the proposed removal of the trees from Punchard avenue to J. Wm. Dean's store on Main street, will be held in the lower town hall next Wednesday afternoon at 4.30 o'clock. Tree warden Carter has had an expert making an examination and he says that the trees can be lowered for $200 apiece. Workmen, under Mr. Carter's direction, removed the concrete around the base of some of the trees and made an examination to determine the character of the roots. It was found that they did not grow as satisfactorily as was anticipated, so that lowering would not be an easy task. Mr. Carter stated that concrete around the base of the tree was a very bad thing and was apt to result fatally in time.

A Record Ride.

The automobile record between New York and Boston was broken by H. M. Whipple and George B. Adams of New York, last Friday and Saturday. They covered the 255 miles in 15 hours and 11 minutes, 19 minntes better than the previous record made by K. A. Skinner. Mr. Whipple is well known in town where his wife is at present visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gould, in the Scotland district, having an automobile with her also. Mr. Whipple is a director of the Automobile club of America.

FIRE AT HAGGETTS

Three Buildings Go Up in Smoke Early This Morning.

An alarm of fire from box 52 this morning, at 5 o'clock, was the signal to call the department on a heart-breaking run for the horses to Bellevue, Haggetts pond, where the dance hall was burning. When Chief Hardy arrived on the scene, nothing remained of the building but the sills, which were still smouldering. Word was sent back to the hose wagon and engine to return, but the former piece of apparatus was so close to the grove that it went on and a stream from the chemicals was played on the embers. Four horses were used on the engine, driven by Dick Carter. The engine got nearly to the "Boston" before it was stopped.

The blaze was presumably of incendiary origin as no fire is used in the building. The hall was about 100 feet long by 75 feet wide, and was by no means new. Other buildings in the grove, which is conducted by Thomas Dixon and owned by James Greenwood of Lawrence, were the dining room, bowling alley and ice house. They were at least 150 or 200 feet away in a westerly direction from the dance hall, and as there was no wind this morning early, and the fire was practically extinguished, Chief Hardy sent the department home.

Not long after they left, however, the dining hall, a building about 75x40, and the bowling alley, a little smaller, caught fire and burned down in spite of all efforts to save them. How the fire could have been communicated from the dance hall to the others is a mystery, as any one on the premises would have had little difficulty in stamping out any fire in the short grass between them.

The first fire started about a quarter to four o'clock, and a telephone message was sent to John E. Smith from the pumping station at a quarter to five. Mr. Smith telephoned Chief Frye, who notified Frank M. Smith, and the latter pulled the engine house box at five o'clock. Information was given by a resident of the town near the Tyer Rubber company's works, that it was useless to go up as he had been watching the blaze since it first started and had seen it die out. People connected with the grove claimed that they gave the alarm an hour before the apparatus appeared, but where the message could have strayed to from the telephone wire in that length of time cannot be explained,

The second alarm was telephoned in about 7 o'clock and some of the department went up with chemicals, but their arrival was too late to be of any use.

Mr. Greenwood of Lawrence who owns the buildings states that it would cost about $1500 to rebuild the three, and that there is no insurance. He is not very well acquainted with their condition previous to the fire, not having examined them for several years. He did not know whether he should rebuild or not.

The grove is used by large picnic parties and was engaged for Monday, Labor day, by the Labor Union of Lawrence.

There seems to be a number of peculiar, if not suspicious circumstances connected with the fires.

WEST PARISH.

Mrs. Kelsey and daughter Miss Louise, who have been spending the summer with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Abbott, left Monday for North Adams where they will join Rev. Mr. Kelsey, who has been supplying the pulpit at the Congregational church for the past two weeks. On their way home to Toledo, O., they will stop several days at the Pan-American.

Mrs. William N. Pike and daughter Miss Kate, have returned from York beach where they spent last week.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Warren Tuck returned yesterday from a several days' visit at Goffstown and Concord, N. H.

Mrs. Rushworth of Lawrence, is visiting Mrs. Sarah Wagstaff.

Mrs. Ella T. Phelps, Miss Emma and Fred Phelps and Miss Lucia Burtt have returned from Hampton beach.

Miss Carolyn J. Burtt is visiting Miss Harriet Bloomfield at Winthrop.

The Grange fair held on Tuesday evening was very well attended. Music by the Andover Brass band was much appreciated during the evening. In charge of the candy table were Misses Clara Putnam and Lucia Burtt and of the ice cream, Mr. and Mrs. Milo Gould and Mr. and Mrs. Asa Gould.

Card of Thanks.

I wish to express my thanks for the kindness shown me by my neighbors and friends during the illness and after the death of my youngest daughter, Agnes.

Also to those who sent such beautiful floral offerings to the funeral service, which was gratefully appreciated.

Proper Picture Frames

If all frames were alike it would not matter where you had them made. But they are not all alike. There is as much difference as there is in the people that order them. Our frames are not only low in price, but they are artistic in make-up and give proper effect to the picture. It wouldn't be a bad idea to give us a chance to show you how "different" ours are from the other fellows'.

COMMUNICATIONS

The Doomed Trees.

Editor of the Townsman.

As a citizen of Andover and a dweller on Main street, I cannot think of the ten fine trees between Punchard avenue and the store of J. W. Dean being cut without a word of remonstrance. It may be useless, but let us at least call a halt for a moment, and think what it means. Those trees are the beauty of the street. Stand at the Square and look up and the stranger never speaks of anything else. I will try to throw aside what would be sneeringly called the sentiment of the occasion; I will try to forget how and by whom those trees were planted; I will only hint at their beauty in the early spring, their delicious shade in the heat of summer, their gorgeous color in autumn and their grace in the desolate winter, and simply ask why any body of men, even if they be the Selectmen, should take upon themselves to so injure the property of any body of their constituents? They are rendering Main street undesirable as a residential street. They are doing violence to the feelings of every person who loves beauty and has done their best through long years of occupation to avoid ugliness; in short, they are setting a premium on the merely material side of life.

There is just as much nonsense talked about the "march of progress" as there is of a merely sentimental love for trees. A tree is a thing of life; cut it down and you have destroyed an intelligence, and in just so much you have brutalized a community. Do those who talk so lightly of this act of sacrilege remember that trees were once worshipped? I cannot think it possible that a town that boasts its academies, seminary, libraries, art gallery, archaeological school, and Village Improvement society will allow such an outrage. I cannot pick and choose words; life is at stake. Let all who love and admire our old town, appeal from Andover drunk to Andover sober.

ANNIE SAWYER DOWNS.

Edgecliff, South West Harbor, Me., Aug. 26, 1901.

To the Editor of the Townsman.

I hope you will aid, and that all the citizens of Andover will come to the aid of Mr. Carter, tree warden, in his efforts to save the trees on Main street now imperiled. Those trees are the growth of at least two generations of men. Should they now be destroyed the child is not yet born who will see Main street restored to its present grace and beauty. The problem of saving them and yet giving the street railroad all it really needs is not a very difficult one. It can be done in either of three ways: (1) A single track from Barnard street to Punchard avenue. (2) If the double track is to be used as is usual, the danger will not be great should the room on the east side of the track be too narrow for the passage of teams. There are very many places in Boston where the space between the tracks and sidewalk is too narrow for such passage, yet few, if any accidents result. (3) The trees can be lowered and their horizontal position changed at a cost not greatly in excess of the cost of cutting them down and removing the stumps and roots. This may seem chimerical, but it is entirely practicable. In order to make room for the buildings of the late exposition in Paris all the trees, and the number was very large, in the gardens of the Hotel Invalides were removed to other locations quite distant where they remained two or three years. They were restored to their original locations after the removal of the buildings. The first of the above ways is, of course, the easiest and cheapest. Doubtless there are other ways of surmounting the difficulty, but let some way be found and then let all, young and old, unite in saving the trees.

JOHN L. BREWSTER.

The Fletcher Family Union.

The members of the Fletcher Family Union will celebrate the quarter-centennial of its organization in Tremont Temple, Boston, Mass., September 4th, beginning at 9.30 a. m. Addresses will be made by the president, Austin B. Fletcher of New York: Judge Robert S. Parker, of Ohio; Hon. Charles S. Hamlin, of Boston; Prof. William I. Fletcher, Amherst College, and others.

J. M. Fletcher, of Nashua, N. H., the poet of the occasion will deliver a poem entitled "New England Life." Mrs. Evta Kileski Bradbury, dramatic soprano will sing. Carter's orchestra will furnish music throughout the day. Dinner will be served at 12.30 o'clock.

Every descendant of Robert Fletcher, Concord, Mass., 1630, is urged to make a special effort to be present.

Thursday, September 5th, the family will make an excursion to Plymouth, Mass. There are many descendants of the Fletchers in town.

Saturday Evening's Shower.

Not a great deal of damage was done by the severe shower last Saturday evening although a very large amount of water fell. There was an exceedingly heavy crash of thunder, following a blinding flash of lightning. Many people believed their houses had been struck and got up to investigate.

The surfaces of many streets were washed off, especially on Main, Phillips and Pierson streets. On Salem street, there was a bad washout at the culvert which the trustees of Phillips Academy have built to drain Brothers' field.

Several places in the new paving of the Boston & Northern road especially near the sewer man holes, were undermined somewat and sunk a little below the level. The damage as a whole was very slight as compared with many places, however.

Late pedestrians tell about having to wade about up to their ankles in water on different streets while on their way home showing how heavy was the downpour while it lasted.

The Lawrence Gas company have extended their mains up Harding street to Frank B. Grout's, Walnut avenue. The main on Elm street is also being extended from William G. Goldsmith's to connect with the main from Washington avenue.

All our fancy lawns and ginghams marked down to close, at Farr's Remnant Store, 9 Lawrence street, Lawrence.

IN MEMORIAM

A Tribute from a Friend to the Late Mrs. Abbie C. Russell.

Mrs. Abbie C. Russell died at the home of her sister, Miss Mary F. Waldo, Thursday morning, Aug. 22d, of heart failure.

The deceased was born in Andover, May 28th, 1839, and was the daughter of Jonathan and Locina Goldsmith Waldo. She attended the public schools of Andover and was an unusually precocious child. The strong, intellectual trend of her mind asserted itself at an early age in the selection and perusal of historical and scientific works beyond her years. She was well read, a deep thinker, quick to grasp the meaning of an abstruse subject, yet so modest and unassuming in her ways that but a few choice friends were aware of the rich acquisitions of her well-stored mind.

While yet in the morning of life she married Charles Russell of Lynn, and the young couple took up their residence in that city. Two children came to gladden their home-life, both boys, and their mother's heart was filled with pride and joy. A few, brief years she wore the crown of motherhood and then the shadow of a great sorrow fell across that home, and her cradled treasures were numbered with the countless multitude of little ones, of whom Christ says, "For of such is the kingdom of Heaven."

Widowhood soon followed, and she returned to her childhood home in this town and remained a permanent resident for more than twenty years.

In the school of life her path ofttimes led through avenues of disappointed hopes and deep afflictions, which, happily were blessings in their way, combined, with the mingled strength and sweetness of her charactar, to aid in the growth and development of a grand and noble womanhod.

Her aged mother, when past her fourscore years, met with a painful accident which confined her to her room a helpless invalid to the day of her death at 88 years. What untold riches of mind and heart were the heritage of this devoted daughter can be best understood from the fact that through four years of ceaseless vigils by the bedside of her mother, every wish expressed or implied by the invalid, all that love could desire or intuitive perception suggest, was cheerfully carried out to the letter. Nor was that all. By a supreme effort of will, and an inspiration born of patient courage, she could so temper the daily incidents of the sick room as to deprive it of the wearisome monotony incidental to its environments and make that room the gate of heaven to the mother's waiting soul.

After the death of her mother, Jan. 13, all too soon it became painfully evident that heart and strength were failing her and the end was not far off. It was a long cherished desire, often expressed in the reading of her favorite poem, "Crossing the Bar," written by Tennyson, that in God's own time she might slip silently away, "and may there be no sadness of farewell when I embark." In the silent watches of the night to her listening ear came "one clear call for me," and without a struggle or a sigh she passed into the great unknown, beyond whose "deep and boundless sea" lieth eternity. But her good works and noble example will live in the memory of those who are nearest and dearest, long after the grass shall grow green on the new-made grave and the tried heart has crumbled to dust.

The funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at the South church and were conducted by Rev. F. A. Wilson, pastor of the Free church. The body reposed in a drab broadcloth casket, heavily mounted with silver trimmings, and covered with a profusion of floral tributes from friends of the departed. Sixty-three tea roses arranged in a spray were exquisitely beautiful. A quartet from the Free church sang "The Home Land;" remarks and prayer followed; the pastor read her favorite poem, after which the quartet sang "Jesus, Saviour, Pilot me." The beautiful committal service was deeply impressive. Interment was in the family lot in the South cemetery.

The deceased is survived by two brothers and three sisters: Miss Sarah C. Waldo, Miss Mary F. Waldo, Joseph W. Waldo, of Andover, Mrs. Elizabeth Ward of Peabody, Ex-Representative John Waldo, Barnstead, N. H.; also a nephew, Rev. J. B. Wilson, assistant pastor-elect of the First Baptist church, Brooklyn, N. Y, and several nieces.

Crossing the Bar

Sunset and evening star,
And one clear call for me!
And may there be no moaning of the bar,
When I put out to sea.

But such a tide as moving seems asleep,
Too full for sound and foam,
When that which drew from out the boundless deep,
Turns again home.

Twilight and evening bell,
And after that the dark!
And may there be no sadness of farewell
When I embark.

For tho' from out our bourne of time and place
The flood may bear me far,
I hope to see my Pilot face to face
When I have crost the bar.

Obituary.

The death of Anthony Ward last night at the age of seventy-five years, removes an old and highly thought of member of the community, who resided on Lowell street in the West Parish. He was the owner of a fine farm.

Mr. Ward was a member of the West Parish church, and was associated with Lawrence lodge, I. O. O. F. He leaves his wife, two sons, George D., a farmer, and Richard A., a milkman, and five daughters, Mrs. Ella Phelps, Mrs. Jennie E. Gardner, Miss Emma, a school teacher at Harvard, Mass., Miss Maggie, a dressmaker at Lawrence, and Eva a student.

The funeral will be held from his late home at two o'clock Sunday afternoon, Rev. G. A. Andrews officiating.

CRICKET

Andover, 59; Merrimack 20.

The Merrimacks were easily defeated last Saturday afternoon in a league game by Andover, on Burnham Park, Lawrence. It was the last league game for both teams and Andover took the opportunity to annex two points. In the first game, at Andover earlier in the season, the Lawrence team gained a flukey victory, but Saturday's win fully atoned for that defeat.

The game was delayed somewhat by a shower of rain which fell previous to the time for starting. Captain Bruce won the toss and chose to bat, Saunders and Parkinson opening. At four Saunders lost Parkinson, and at six Kydd. MacDermitt followed and together with Saunders brought the score up to 27 before the third wicket fell. Rhodes, Bruce and Richie all batted well and raised the score to 59 runs before the inning was finished. Rhodes had top score with 15, Saunders getting 12.

When the Merrimacks went to bat it was evident that the bowling of Saunders and Bruce was too much for them and they were absolutely unable to play it. Wickets went down in rapid succession and all were out for 20 runs. Saunders was in particularly fine form, and took seven wickets for ten runs. In one over he took Forrest's wicket and with the next ball knocked two of Whitaker's wickets clean out of the ground and laid over the third. He was about unplayable. Bruce bowled with his usual good judgment and got three for nine. Andover showed up well in the field, a catch by Parkinson which closed the game being of the phenomenal style. Falconer also took two catches in good shape.

The grounds of the Andover cricket club are favored by the Mohairs for the championship game in case of a tie. The Andover grounds are undoubtedly the best in the district and should there be a tie the grounds will be put in the very best shape should the league decide in favor of Andover. The expense to Lowell people would be just the same as a transfer will take them to Andover.

Andover plays Lynn Wanderers an all day game at Lynnhurst, Labor Day. The following team will represent Andover: Bruce, Saunders, Rhodes, Ridings, Peace, Ritchie, Falconer, MacDermitt, H. Kydd, W. Lindsay, Thinn. Reserves, Callum, W. Coutts. Cars leave top of hill at 8.45.

The second eleven of the Andover and Methuen clubs will play on the latter's grounds tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. The following team will represent Andover, Callum, MacDermitt, D. Coutts, Thinn, Pease, Falconer, Brown, Fee, Fairlie, Dane, Cameron. Reserves, Dick, O'Connell.

The regular monthly meeting of the Andover Cricket club will be held at the Club house next Tuesday evening.

The League Series.

Andover finished its league games last Saturday with a win over Merrimack, and although there is still a postponed game with Lawrence, there is no possibility of its being played off. The local team has not done very well in the league competition, and has last place to itself this year with two wins, six defeats and one tie game. The wins were from Lawrence and Merrimack and the tie with Methuen. Lawrence was defeated by eight wickets. Andover lost to Mohair by eight wickets, Merrimacks by four and Methuen by seven wickets. Saunders leads in batting, while Bruce leads Saunders in bowling by the smallest of margins.

The batting and bowling averages follow.

The Merrimack Valley Cricket league met at the Brunswick hotel, Saturday night. All clubs were represented except Andover. Vice-President Teale of Methuen presided.

Secretary Humphriss moved that averages for bowling and batting shall only count in the ten scheduled games of each club, which was unanimously carried. This was to prevent the counting of such averages in any final game for the championship.

The registration of James Thorpe and Arthur Hindle by the Buntings after they had closed their league series was severely criticized by Secretary Humphriss, representing the Mohairs, and on motion of Secretary Wainwright of Lawrence it was voted that the registration of these men be laid on the table until the next meeting in Lawrence, Sept. 7. The league representatives were of the opinion that it was unfair to play men for a final game who had not before participated in any league game. A committee to look over averages was appointed consisting of Messrs. Shuttleworth, Morrell and Briggs.

Hon. Guy W. Currier has decided to give the best bowler in the league a white flannel cricketing suit with cap and belt.

Saengerfest.

Beginning with a reception in Turn hall, Manchester, N. H., on next Saturday evening, and continuing till Tuesday, the fifth biennial Saengerfest of the New England Saengerbund will be held in the Queen City of New Hampshire. It will mark the second time that Manchester has been honored with the event and reports of the various committees give assurance of a very successful music carnival. Thousands of German singers and their friends will journey from all over New England to attend the gala event and Lawrence will be well represented in this year's gathering.

The Saengerfest will be a typical reproduction of the "grosse saengerfeste' which are held throughout Germany every year. The same conditions will rule as there, the same national songs will be sung, and in every manner will the German singers reproduce the famous Saengerfest as seen in Germany. There will be prize singing contests, grand chorus singing, a parade and open air festivities and a grand sacred concert.

It is expected that a large number of the business men of Manchester will decorate their buildings in the visitors' honor. Governor Jordan, Mayor William C. Clarke, as well as other dignitaries, will be present to welcome the German singers.

The local singing clubs which are already booked to take part in the carnival are: Mozart Maennerchor, leader, Mathew Albers; Maennerchor Vorwaerts, leader, Hermann Otto; Maennerchor Liederkranz, leader, George Seuss; Maennerchor Arion, leader, John C. Benker; Maennerchor Glocke, leader, August Teichmann; Maennerchor Lyra, leader, Emil Wilde; Maennerchor Eintracht, leader, August Sonntag.

FOR STATE ELECTION.

The board of registrars of voters met in city hall Wednesday morning and voted to hold sessions for registration, in the basement of city hall, on the following dates and at the following hours:

Saturday, Sept. 14, 2.30 and 7.30 p. m.
Wednesday, Sept. 18, 7.30 p. m.
Saturday, Sept. 21, 2.30 and 7.30 p. m.
Saturday, Oct. 5, 2.30 and 7.30 p. m.
Wednesday, Oct. 9, 7.30 p. m.
Saturday, Oct. 12, 2.30 and 7.30 p. m.
Monday, Oct. 14, 7.30 p. m.
Wednesday, Oct. 16, continuous session from 12 m. till 10 p. m.

After the last session, no names will be registered for the state election so voters would do well to see that they are registered before 10 o'clock on the evening of Wednesday, October 16th.

FIXED OFFICE HOURS.

The county commissioners have issued a decree fixing the office hours of their registry of deeds in Lawrence at from 8 a. m., to 5 p. m., save on Saturday when the hours will be from 8 to 1. Heretofore the office has closed on Saturdays during the summer only, at 1, and kept open Saturday afternoons the remainder of the year. The new order closes the office that afternoon all the year.

The commissioners went to Newburyport yesterday to look over the bridge there. It is well known that this bridge must soon be rebuilt and the commissioners are gradually preparing for it. They are having investigations made as to the best location and the best sort of foundations, etc

IS A BIG JOB.

Foreman John W. Towle of the street department, who is in charge of the men at the repairing of the Canal street sewer, stated Monday that everything is progressing very satisfactorily and comparatively fast when all the things which have to be contended with are taken into consideration. It is a long, slow job at best and the foreman is of the opinion that it will take about the whole of next month to complete the work.

Superintendent Hudson has a good sized gang of men on the job and is pushing the work as fast as he can with safety. He and City Engineer Marble pay frequent visits to the sewer and see that everything is being done in perfect shape.

ONCE TAUGHT HERE.

At a recent meeting of the Salem school board, Principal Joseph A. Ewart of the Braintree grammar school was chosen principal of the Bentley grammar school. He is to take the place of Miss Hannah F. Choate, for nearly 30 years principal of the school. Miss Choate has resigned on account of ill health.

Mr. Ewart is a young man who comes very highly recommended. He had a call to go to Springfield and would have been nominated and elected there last night had not the Salem sub-committee acted as it did. He prefers Salem to Springfield at the same salary. Mr. Ewart is a brother of James B. Ewart of this city and was at one time principal of the Essex school, leaving this city to go to Braintree.

DEATH STATISTICS.

There were 26 deaths reported to the Board of Health last week. Of those who died 13 were under five years and nine over 50 years of age.

The causes were dropsy, chlorosis, diabetis, marasmus, bronchitis, typhoid fever, apoplexy, convulsions, rheumatism, enteritis, gastritis, old age, one each; cancer, unknown natural causes, premature birth, two each; meningitis three; cholera infantum, five.

ELLIS AGAIN.

That Ex-Alderman Richard W. Ellis is to be a candidate for the Republican mayoralty nomination again this fall is now an assured fact. He has made his decision to enter the race and will make a statement announcing his position in a few days. Mr. Ellis so informed a reporter Tuesday noon.

Clams and Fixen's.

"Clams and all the fixin's" were relished by about 150 Wednesday on the delightful grounds of the Merrimack Valley Country club and the event, a clam bake and dance, proved to be one of the most successful and enjoyable of the club's many successes. Everyone wore smiles and all entered right into the spirit of the occasion and had a jolly, good time.

Supper was served on four daintily set tables at 5 o'clock. The sight was a pretty one as the gathering grouped about the festive board, spread with its dishes of steaming hot clams, corn, sweet potatoes, coffee, doughnuts and cheese and watermelon, cut in jagged edges and looking like huge bouquets in the centre of the tables. It was a merry feast and many a jocund laugh rang round the board. Dull care was gone for a few hours and everyone in the gathering of very merry people thought only of having a good time.

During the supper, the Columbian orchestra which was stationed near at hand, rendered delightful music.

After the feast came the dance and the cool night was a perfect one for tripping the light fantastic toe. Many swung partners while many others preferred to sit upon the steps of the veranda and enjoy the beautiful night. The full moon shone soft and gentle and cast its reflection on the waters of the river, down the valley. The scene was superb and the landscape was visible for considerable distance by the light of the great white orb which looked down on a gathering of very merry people.

At an intermission declared about 10 o'clock, ices were served, then after another dance or two the merry party broke up.

The clam bake was in charge of E. N. Winslow and Major W. L. Stedman of the house committee, and the dainty spread was set by Leach Bros. of Methuen. Louis S. Cox and Paul R. Clay looked after the dancing. The attendance was very gratifying, considering the number of members who are out of town at this season.

Among the many in attendance at the good time were: Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Winslow, Major and Mrs. W. L. Stedman, Mrs. G. L. Gage, Mrs. H. B. Musk, Mrs. M. D. Russell, Mr. and Mrs Hugo Bell, E. Searle and wife, Dr. and Mrs. William J. Sullivan, Mrs. C. E. Scheffler, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Marble, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph A. Day, Dr. and Mrs. W. A. THEY STRUCK IT RICH.

It was a grand thing for this community that such an enterprising man as Arthur Bliss secured the agency for Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, the wonderful remedy that has startled the world by its marvellous cures. The furor of enthusiasm over it has boomed their business, as the demand for it is immense. He gives free trial bottles to sufferers, and positively guarantee it to cure Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup, and all Throat and Lung Troubles. A trial proves its merit. Price 50c and $1.00.

WAS WILLIAM DAVIS.

The body of William Davis, who was drowned at the swimming hole in Stevens pond, North Andover yesterday afternoon about 1.45 o'clock, was removed to Colby's undertaking rooms in this city. The victim was the 15-year-old son of William Davis, a furniture dealer on Essex street, who formerly lived with his family on Clarendon street in North Andover but now lives on Sunny avenue off Swan street in Lawrence.

Willie was bathing with two companions, James Hargereaves and Harry Wormald, both much smaller than himself but good swimmers. They were all in the water and Willie had just swam out quite a way and back and had started out again, and was about 50 feet from shore when he felt that he was going down from some reason unknown. He shouted to his companion, "Jimmie, I'm going." Jimmie said, "Take hold of my leg and I will help you in," but Willie said, "No, if I do, there will be two of us," and he sank without a struggle to the bottom in ten feet of water where his body was recovered about seven minutes after by Officer William Toohey who was called to his assistance. At the place where he went down there is a very strong current caused by the water coming from the big pond. A few minutes before Mr. Toohey arrived icemen from the ice houses nearby has put an ice run in the water and were floating about but they could be of no assistance as none of them could swim.

As soon as the body was brought ashore a cask was procured and the water was all rolled out of the body but to no avail. The doctor arrived about 15 minutes after and pronounced life extinct. The deceased is remembered by friends in North Andover as being a very quiet and nice boy. He leaves besides his parents a number of brothers and sisters.

THE FIDDLER'S DECISION.

"Why, what are you doing here with your fiddle, Tom?"

"I came to play for the dance, same as I agreed ter."

"But we heard your wife died last night, so we engaged another man."

"Wal, I'll tell yer. I thought the matter all over, and cum to the conclusion that, seeing as how Sally was no blood relation of mine, I might jist as wel cum and fiddle for ye."

Company F's Outing.

The first seashore vacation of Co. F began Saturday when they left for Salisbury. About 60 members of this enterprising organization assembled at the armory at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon, and in full uniform, boarded a special car. Each man carried his gun, overcoat and blanket.

At Haverhill the steamer Merrimack was boarded and the trip to the ocean made. At Salisbury the company is quartered at Black Rocks, in the Casino building. The building has been fully equipped and stored with luxuries by the quartermaster-sergeant and two assistants, who went down Thursday. Each morning about 5.30 there will be a drill and every evening a concert will take place on the piazza. They will remain until next Saturday, when they will return and prepare for the reception to the 69th New York regiment, which takes place in Boston on Labor day.

JOHN BARTLEY DEAD.

John Bartley, for many years a well knuown and respected citizen of Lawrence, passed away at the family residence, 168 Lowell street, about 7.45 o'clock Thursday morning at the age of 53 yrs. Mr Bartley had been troubled with his heart for a number of years but had been confined to his bed only a few days. Death was attributed to heart disease.

The deceased was born in Ireland, but had lived in ward four of this city for the past 35 years or more. Up to about 10 years ago he was an overseer in the Washington mills, but at that time he retired from active life and had since looked after his real estate.

Mr. Bartley was a Democrat and had always taken an active part in politics although he had held no office.

Besides his widow, he leaves two sons, Dr. John J. Bartley, house surgeon at the Carney hospital, Boston, and who graduated from Harvard Medical school last June, and Councilman William B. Bartley.

CHAIRMAN LYNCH'S VIEW.

Chairman John S. Lynch, of the Democratic city comittee, when asked his opinion as to who would be the strongest candidate for governor, said, according to an interview published in the Boston Globe:

"The time is at hand when the Democratic party should forget any differences that may have existed in the past and unite upon a candidate for governor who embodies democratic principles—a man in whom the Democrats of our commonwealth have faith and confidence. I believe the man who has been tried and has never been found wanting is Hon. John W. Corcoran of Clinton.

"With him as a leader I believe a campaign would be inaugurated which would equal in enthusiasm those famous campaigns in which Hon. William E. Russell was three times successful. He would be strong not only in Boston, where he is so well known, but he would have a remarkable following in the country districts and other cities of the state, which he so ably canvassed not many years ago.

"Several other candidates have been mentioned who would make a gallant fight, but I doubt if any of them would inspire the confidence and create the enthusiasm and bring out the vote that Judge Corcoran would."

STRICKEN BY DEATH.

Mrs. Annie Warmsley, wife of Robert Warmsley, died suddenly Saturday night about 10 o'clock, at her home, 351 Park street. While reading at a table she was suddenly stricken by death.

Dr. Redmond was sent for, but could do nothing, as Mrs. Warmsley was dead when he reached the house. Heart failure is assigned as the cause.

The deceased is survived by one son, William, aged 13 years, and one daughter, aged 18 years. Her husband is living in Lynn where he is employed. The local police requested the Lynn officers to notify him of his wife's death.

INTO THE SHAWSHIN.

James J. Finegan, the Arlington district provision dealer was returning Saturday night to his summer home in North Andover during the severe thunder storm, when a flash of lightning caused his horse to take flight just after he had passed the power house of the street railway. The horse made a dash to one side of the road, going over the fence and clearing himself from the buggy, which became entangled in the fence and trees standing on the bank, and the animal fell into the river.

Mr. Finnigan's cries for assistance called George T. Ives, the starter at the car barn, and other employes there, and together they were able to rescue the horse, which was but little the worse for its experience.

The buggy and harness were wrecked.

AGENT INGRAM.

Assistant Agent John W. Coggeshall of the Washington mills has been named by Agent James Ingram to look after the affairs at the Globe and Prospect mills under him. "There is no agent for these mills," said Mr. Ingram in an interview, "but Mr. Coggeshall will look after the affairs of both mills, under me. He will be in his present place a great deal of the time, and will go back and forth, more or less, between the mills.

Agent Ingram stated that everything is progressing very satisfactorily at the newly purchased plants and that the necessary arrangements are being gotten well under way.

Lazy Liver

"I have been troubled a great deal with a torpid liver, which produces constipation. I found CASCARETS to be all you claim for them, and secured such relief the first trial, that I purchased another supply and was completely cured. I shall only be too glad to recommend Cascarets whenever the opportunity is presented." J. A. SMITH, 2920 Susquehanna Ave., Philadelphia, Pa.

Mr. S. J. Smith until recently actively engaged in mission work in Lowell, entertained a party of about 30 of his former co-workers from that city at his home on Hawthorne avenue, Oakland Highlands, last Saturday afternoon and evening. The time was pleasantly passed by all and the party returned to Lowell greatly pleased with the beauties of Methuen.

Miss Stevens and Miss Sands of Washington, D. C., are the guests of Dr. Geo. E. Woodbury. On Saturday afternoon and evening David D. Woodbury gave a canoe party in their honor on the Spicket. About a dozen of the local young people attended and enjoyed themselves greatly in spite of the rain which gave them an unexpected wetting and caused a hasty retreat homewards.

The Methuen fire department participated in the muster held at Andover Saturday. It left Methuen about 8.30 o'clock in the morning and arrived home during the latter part of the afternoon. Steamer E. A. Straw, drawn by four horses was prettily decorated with flags and made a fine appearance. The boys were given a fine banquet in Odd Fellows block at noon and are much pleased at the cordial treatment accorded them.

On Saturday evening at her home on Broadway, Mrs. Cecilia Poore Gilcreast an old and respected resident of this town passed away. She had been in feeble health for some time past, and consequently her death was not entirely unexpected. She was the widow of the late Aaron Gilcreast, who died three years ago this month, and is survived by two sons, Walter L. S. Gilcreast and Everett Gilcreast. The funeral will take place Tuesday at two o'clock. Mrs. Gilcreast was born in Andover, Me., Aug. 21, 1828, but came to Methuen when 18 years of age and has resided here for the past 55 years.

Mr. John P. Fitzgerald, formerly proprietor of the Grand Central hotel in Lynn, spent Sunday at Mrs. F. J. Melody's on Ashland avenue, left today accompanied by his daughter Miss Marie Fitzgerald, who has been making a four weeks visit with Mrs. Melody, her aunt. On Saturday afternoon and evening Miss Fitzgerald was given a farewell party by about 20 of her young friends, from many of whom she received very pretty presents of jewelry, candy and flowers. The house was tastefully decorated with flowers and the time was pleasantly spent in various games and dancing. At their departure Miss Fitzgerald presented each of her friends with a boutonniere.

Mrs. Sidney Ford spent Sunday in Waltham.

Mr. McLaughlin is building a two-tenement house on the corner of Lowell and Closson streets. It is to be occupied about Thanksgiving time. Contractor J. H. Lyons is doing the work.

Mr. Fred Paige of Hampshire Roads is to move into the village the latter part of the week. He will occupy the house on Gage street formerly occupied by Mrs. Milo Anderson, who has removed from town.

Rev. Nathan Bailey of the First Baptist church will deliver an address on the subject, "The Universal Model—How to Approach Him," Labor day in Rowley, Mass., at the quarterly meeting of the B. Y. P. U. of the Salem association.

There is on exhibition at the Nevins Memorial library a very fine specimen of blazing star, rather an uncommon plant in Methuen. Master Edward Kimball found it in the woods near the New Hampshire line and presented it to the library.

Residents of the town are warned against any persons claiming to be inspectors appointed by the selectmen in regard to the new sewers. Several men are trying this dodge in order to get into the various houses. They are however imposters as the selectmen have made no such appointments.

After being omitted for a month while repairs were being made on the audience room, the regular Sunday morning preaching services will be resumed next Sunday morning in the First Baptist church. Mr. Bailey will be back from his month's vacation spent in Marblehead and will occupy the pulpit.

Contractor Lyons is rapidly pushing work on the new Barker schoolhouse and expects it will be ready for occupancy within a few weeks after the school term opens. It is already studded and boarded in. The roof will be on the latter part of the week. The other school building has been moved to the opposite corner and may be used as a chapel in which a Sunday school will be held under the direction of the society of King's Daughters, an organization connected with the Congregational church.

The local police were somewhat surprised Tuesday night to be told that a murder had been committed in Methuen or just over the line in New Hampshire. The report started in Lawrence and spread by way of the telephone wires to Methuen. Rapidly following the report, came a flock of reporters from Lawrence, who engaged in a bit of detective work on their own account. It was all in vain however, that they aroused nearly all the residents of the town living on the road from Marston's Corner to Hampshire Roads by way of Stillwater, no murder could be discovered.

A YOUNG LADY'S LIFE SAVED

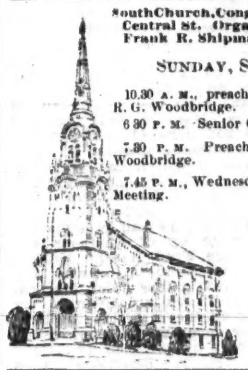

At Panama, Columbia, by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Dr. Chas. U. Utter, a prominent physician, of Panama, Columbia, in a recent letter states: "Last March I had for a patient a young lady sixteen years of age, who had a very bad attack of dysentery. Everything I prescribed for her proved ineffectual and she was growing worse every hour. Her parents were sure she would die. She had become so weak that she could not turn over in bed. What to do at this critical moment was a study for me, but I thought of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and as a last resort prescribed it. The most wonderful result was effected. Within eight hours she was feeling much better, inside of three days she was upon her feet and at the end of one week was entirely well." For sale by all druggists.

NEW FIRE ENGINE

Muster and Playout—Andover Engine Outplays the Locals.

Saturday was a red-letter day in the history of the town of North Andover. Every man, woman and child is proud of the fact that their firemen are so well up in the points of water throwing and hose racing. The guests present from Methuen and Andover felt repaid and honored to be present at such a successful muster.

The parade formed on Andover street and started at ten o'clock, at the striking of five bells on the new fire alarm by Engineer Patrick P. Daw.

The procession was lead by a platoon of police made up of Engineer and Chief of Police Fred Marvin, Officers Toohey, Mizen, Sanborn, Shearer and Campbell. Next came Chief Marshal David W. Walwork accompanied by the visiting engineers of the Methuen and Andover departments, Engineer A. B. Farnsworth of Methuen and Chief Lewis T. Hardy, Engineers Allen Simpson and George D. Lawson of Andover.

After the Mechanics Brass band which furnished fine music for the occasion, came North Andover's old stand-by and its company of sturdy fire fighters, the Eben Suttons, with Captain Charles Dame at their head.

At the passing of the Eben Sutton's the glitter of the nickel plate of the pride of Andover's fire department bedecked with flowers attended by its hose carriage and company led by Captain Walter I. Morse. Next one heard the jingle of the bells on the beautiful harnesses of the horses of the E. A. Straw engine of Methuen; one might call her the sister engine of the Eben Sutton, as she is nearly of the same age. Now amidst the cheers of the many admirers comes the pride of North Andover's department, arrayed in their new uniforms, headed by the new engine Cochichewick.

Following these are the ex-members of the "Cochichs" with the Cochichewick hand engine, and following the old fire fighters of the past comes the young fire fighters of the future with the old hand engine, "Lion," built in 1830, with Master Abbott Stevens as their captain.

Last but not least comes the veterans of the Eben Sutton Engine company with Foreman Henry R. Smith, preceded by the 8th Regiment Drum Corps with its thrilling and inspiring music.

The vets who were unable to march were conveyed in a barouche driven by their old engine driver Steven Hughes. Mr. Hughes wore a yellow tall hat that is a much valued article as these hats were worn as a part of the uniforms of old firemen.

At the end of the first part of the line of march the apparatus was left in Jefferson square and all the companies and guests enjoyed a fine banquet in Odd Fellows hall. The hall was filled completely by over 200 banqueters. After a plentiful repast speeches and remarks were listened to by the following with Chief D. W. Walwork as toastmaster, Judge N. P. Frye, Representatives James C. Dove and A. N. Frost, Selectman J. P. Clark, Samuel D. Stevens, and Albert F. King, Jr.

After dinner the line of march was taken up again to Stevens street where the friendly playout took place in front of Stevens mill. Andover won the playout throwing a stream of 238 5-10 feet. The new Cochichewick came second with 236 4-10 feet, then followed Eben Sutton with 235 4-10 feet and E. A. Straw with 211 6-10 feet.

The playout was witnessed by a large crowd of people from many of the towns about North Andover. After the playout the hose race occurred at Phillips square in the centre where a still greater crowd gathered. There were three companies entered representing the Andovers, Cochichewicks and Eben Suttons. The first race which was friendly was won by the Cochichewicks in 31 seconds, Andovers second with 35 secs., Eben Suttons last with 42 seconds.

The next race which was to run 100 yds. couple to hydrant and then run 200 feet uncouple and put on a nozzle, was won by the Eben Suttons in 35 seconds and the Cochichewicks second in 40 seconds; the Andover team finished in 38 seconds but made a cross thread on the nozzle and failed to connect it.

The teams competing were as follows: Eben Suttons, Walter Roberts, Herbert Woohouse, Edward Costello, John Fish, George Matherson, George Butterworth, William Stewart, William Towne, Eli Watts and Horace Towne. Cochichewicks, Patrick Ryan, Phillip Lee, John McRobbie, H. G. Schruender, David Crockett, John Davis, John Healey, Thomas Broderick, James Dillon, Richard McEvoy. Andover, C. S. Buchan, C. A. Morse, L. A. Dane, F. C. Morse, A. R. Morse, F. R. Carter, H. Bordwell, C. Pomeroy, A. Kaiser, Joseph Kilman.

The judges for the hose race were: Chief D. W. Walwork, Assistants Marvin and Dow, Chief H. E. Brown of Methuen and Allen Simpson of Andover, John Burnham, George Stone and Clarence Goldsmith, H. A. Glazin of Malden and C. N. Perkins of Lawrence.

The prizes were: 1st prize, solid silver gold lined swinging water pitcher; 2nd prize, solid silver goldlined salad dish; 3rd, solid silver, gold lined goblet. At the end of the hose race it set in and rained all the evening thus preventing the holding of the band concert on the stand in Jefferson square.

FIVE HOURS SAIL ON LAKE WINNIPESAUKEE. EXCURSION TO CENTRE HARBOR.

A day on the lake means a great deal to any one who has never experienced that pleasure, for of all the outings and excursions which are so welcome to the people of New England, there is none which will better satisfy or refresh the tired excursionist than the yearly excursion to Centre Harbor on the shores of Lake Winnipesaukee.

Winnipesaukee, situated at the foot of New Hampshire's magnificent mountains is indeed a beautiful body of water.

With a length of sixty miles and a width which, in some places, measures most seven miles, it is truly termed, the Queen of New England's Lakes.

A large and beautiful boat, the Steamer Mt. Washington, sails over the lake meeting the train at Alton Bay and carrying the excursionist for a sail of sixty miles over the lake presenting a delightful view on every side.

The large hills and mountains which rise to the south and appear to slope right to the waters edge, and toward the north the lofty peaks of the White Mountains in the distance which tower above the clouds, present an ever interesting and very fascinating scene from the moving steamer.

If you have never taken this delightful trip, then try it on Monday, September 9th, and you will never regret it. The ride in the train is through the prettiest section of New Hampshire, and this alone is well worth the trip.

On Monday, September 9th, 1901, the Boston & Maine Railroad will run an excursion from Malden and stations on the Western Division as far as Ward Hill, and stations on the Eastern Division as far as Rowley; also from Lowell and Wamesit at a rate of $2.00 for the round trip.

NOW HE WONDERS.

Mr. Easee—Dr. Newley says that eating alone is not conducive to long life, and I believe he is right. Do you?

Miss Passee—O, Mr. Easee, this is so sudden.—Chelsea Gazette.

"John dear," said the bride, after they had gone to keeping house with a never-vacant 'spare room,' "I believe all our friends think we are perfectly miserable."

"Why, my dear?"

"Well, they seem to be carrying out the idea that 'misery loves company.'"—Philadelphia Bulletin.

"I don't know what to do with those populistic angels that arrived yesterday," complained the chief musician in the Elysian Fields.

"How's that?" inquired the assistant.

"They say they won't play on anything but silver harps."—Baltimore American.
